

When Balboa Park's West Prado Arcade was reconstructed in 2005, there was not enough money to complete this highly ornamented section in the middle of the arcade. The Committee of One Hundred hopes to raise $500,000 to reconstruct the ornamentation that showcases this "Moorish Arch." The image on the left shows the current flat appearance of this section. The composite image on the right demonstrates how this arch would look with replicas of its original ornamentation.

Will you help make this dream a reality?
